I been working on for my mother's family.
I believe the records
listed in 1820-30 Census of the 1818 Tax Roll
is our ancestor
I'm trying to try that record &
the Maryland who is listed in 1840
as as head of a household as husband & wife.
My mother people come from N.C. - So did this family. These names are spelled Kittrell, Kittrell, Kittrell etc in these documents - also my Grand father married a Kittrell
as I've shown here
(over)

The Big Grand m. The Cemetery you mentioned I believe is my great grand father - my mother is working on this - My Great grand father married Tami - ① Margaret ~~Ray~~ Slay ② Rebecca Roberts He seems like always had a child when he married her. Two children some was very young. This is the one in the Cemetery, as that. I will have more specific info later.

Enclosed is a money order for $9.00 for the book

KITTRELL FAMILY OF NORTH CAROLINA

AND SOME DESCENDANTS

Armorial Bearings

Asure: A lion passant' or between three mascles of the second.

Crest: On a chapean asure, turned up ermine, a wild cat statant proper.

The Kittrell family in America descends from a very ancient and notable family who originally spelled the name Caterall. We have not traced the family back of Edward I. There is no doubt, much history of the early branches and derivation of the family but references are rare.

The American Kittrell family descend from the old Lancashire family of Catnerals (also spelled Catterall and Cateral).

The early Cateralls were established in Lancashire at a very early date; just how long is not certain, but it was previous to the reign of Edward I. They bore for arms Asure: three Mascles' or.

One cadet branch became established about the time of Edward III in Yorkshire, at Rothmel, and from this again a collateral branch. The cadet branch from which the American Kittrells are descended, stems out from John Catarall or Cateral, he apparently spelled his name both ways.
Caterall

In the reign of Edward I, he became established on the Welsh border as one of the retainers of the Lords of Chester. The Welsh border as one of the retainers of the Lords of Chester in Heraldic service. The Welsh connections explain the frequent spelling of the name with "Mac" prefix; although there is some Welsh blood in the Later Catheralls, their name is purely English.

To this John Catherall a difference of arms in the form of a passant lion was awarded for gallantry against the Welsh. The arms of the Catherals.

John Catheral (or Cathral) had a son: Willaim Catheral, alias de Horton, who married an heiress and was a personal friend of Edward II. He had issue:

1. William
2. a daughter
3. A son.

William Catheral had issues:

- . David (Time of Edward III) who had issue:
 - (a) John (time of Henry IV) who had issue:
 - (aa) Ralph (time of Henry VI).
 - (bb) Another son.

Ralph Catheral had issue:

1. Hugh (time of Edward IV) who had issue
 - (a) John (time of Henry VIII). (b) a son. (c) a son. (d) a daughter.
 - (e) a daughter.

John Catheral, was also called Jenkyn Catheral or Kittrell, and John Catherod and is illustrated of this confusion of the spelling of names in that period. He had issue.

1. John Catheral (time of Henry VIII) was called Jenkyn.

John Catheral of the (time of Henry VIII) or Jenkyn Catheral had issue:
1. John of whom this sketch is traced. 2. a son. 3 a daughter.

John Catheral the third of that name died in 1658. This is the first definite date in regard to the family. He upheld the Cavalier cause in the wars of Charles I and the Parliament, and as a result, he was mulated of a large portion of his property. However, he continued to live at Horton after the cessation of hostilities. He had issue:

1. John of whom we are interested. 2. a son. 3. a daughter. 4 a daughter.

John Catheral was living in 1663, as is proved from the "Visitations" but little more is known about him. He had issue.

1. Dutton of whom we are interested and of whom it seems begins the American family history.

Dutton Catheral was born in 1662. As the eldest he inherited the family estate and name and also the family tradition of loyalty to the Stuart cause. When the Revolution of 1688 broke out (which unseated James II and placed William of Orange on the throne). Dutton was consequently on the wrong side; unable and unwilling to follow James on his hurried flight from the kingdom, he sold off the family estate and joined James in Ireland. He lived there for sometime and finally joined the famous "Flight of the wild Geese" to France, however, was not to his taste and on the conclusion of peace, he left that country and came to Maryland, where he is found in parish register of the Eastern shore of Maryland as Dutton Kittrell.

Dutton Kittrell appears to drop almost out of sight, so far as any record is concerned, except that he settled in Maryland. It is likely that he died in Maryland we do not know. We do not know the name of this Dutton Kittrell's wife as nothing has been found to give this information.

From the records and references gathered he had a least one son, although not completely proven by record. We find Jonathan Kittrell first in the records of North Carolina as early as 1700 or thereabout. Jonathan Kittrell was from Maryland and this leads the idea that he was descended from Dutton Kittrell. Other records from Maryland and North Carolina tend to give this opinion or conjection that Jonathan Kittrell was son of Dutton Kittrell of Maryland about 1695. Jonathan K. paid taxes in 300 acres in Nascamond Co. Va. in 1704

NOTE: Cateral (Horton Co. Chester, there settled temp. Edward I. in consequence of the marriage of a Catherall of Catherall, Co., Lancaster, with an heiress of Horton, Randeall Catherall, the Heraldic Collector, was a younger son of the Horton family). KITTRELLS

Our Grandmother, the wife of Langston Goree, was named Sarah Williams Kittrell. She was born in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, where her people, the Kittrells, the Normans and the Williams, had lived for several generations.

Mr. O.W. Blacknall, a kinsman from Kittrell, North Carolina, gives in the "Blacknall Memoris" an interesting and minute account of the Kittrells. He believes that the name was originally Cottrell, and an English word meaning a dweller in a cot or small house. He traces the name Cottrell and variation among the people who settled Chowan and the Albemarle Sound Country until the name Kittrell first appears in 1728. This Kittrell, he thinks, is the same as Jonathan Kittrell who served as court juror at Edenton in the Chowan precinct in 1728.

Of course, we know that almost all early American names underwent change in spelling. As Mr. Blacknall remarks, "The early settler was more concerned with getting bread for his children and keeping scalps in the right place than in teaching them spelling and grammar. The Kittrells of America today may have been Cottrells of old England, but the tradition of our Kittrells in the Gulf States is that their ancestors came from Wales. A Welsh friend of mine says that they have a word which sounds much like Kittrell which means "devil man." Since we do not know, anyway we can take our choice, - I rather lean toward the Welsh "devil-man."

"An economic and Social History of Chowan County, N.C." has been published by the Columbia Press. The first settlers of Chowan, were Virginians, New Englanders; and a colony of shipbuilders from the Bermudes. One John Brickell, in a book about North Carolina, published in Dublin in 1737, says of them: "there is a Liberty of Conscience allowed in the whole province; the Planters live in greatest harmony imaginable, no Disputes or Controversies are ever observed to arise among them about their Religious Principles. They always treat each other with Friendship and Hospitality, and never dispute over their Liquor."

History intimates that these early settlers from New England and Virginia went to North Carolina in search of refuge from the too insistent religious demands of their respective localities. They did not even build a church house until some forty or fifty years after the first settlement. This is rather interesting in connection with our family. The colony of shipbuilders is interesting too, because some years ago a man named Kittrell from New Jersey, wrote Mr. Blacknall that their tradition was that we all came from two Kittrell brothers, shipbuilders, who came to New York State, from Ireland about 1660. The North Carolina tradition asserts that the first American ancestor came to Virginia about 1663.

the above is from a letter to Mr. Blacknall at Kittrell, N.C. and is a copy of a letter from Ed, the son of Henry, who was the first Kittrell to settle in the area.

From the above and a great deal of other information gleaned from many sources it seems reasonably certain, though not yet proven, that Dutton Kittrell and at least one son, or brother, Jonathan came to Maryland via Ireland and New England from Wales. Jonathan probably had a brother who went back to New England since from time to time some Kittrells have been found around Boston

Jonathan from Maryland is first found of record in Nansemond County Va., in 1704 where he paid taxes on 300 acres of land (see Virginia Magazine of History and Biography vol. 29, page 403.) Jonathan married Anne Durant and settled in North Carolina just over the line from Virginia in what was then Chowan County and later parts of it became Gates, Hertford and Bertie Counties. At least one of the old Kittrell places is still in tact with Kittrells living on it, in Gates County on Bennetts Creek, Corapeake, N.C.

Jonathan sold land of record in N.C., 100 acres to James Farlo on Bennetts Creek Feb. 11, 1718 so he was definitely in N.C. at this time.

His latter days were spent in Bertie County, he was overseer of roads and his term expiring in 1744, and he died in 1747 and his will is recorded in Edenton, Chowan County, N.C.

His will names five sons so he had at least five sons, Jonathan Jr., John, Isaac, George and Samuel. John Jr., George and Samuel moved further west in N.C. about 1760 and settled in what is now Vance County and Kittrell N.C. is 7 miles south of Henderson N.C. on U.S. highway #1. John remained in Hertford County. Isaac has not been traced that I can find.

* At about the same time there was another group of Kittrells, John, Absolom, Jonathan, Jethro, Joseph, David and others settled in Pitt and Craven Counties N.C. Jethro may have been the father of some of them, though in no way proven except he seems to be the brother of Moses who remained in the home vicinity whereas these were moving south. It appears that this Jonathan who had settled in Craven County may have been the father of Reuben and Bennett and perhaps Daniel. Reuben settled in Orangeburg County S.C. in 1797. This Reuben was either the father or a close relative, perhaps even a grandfather or uncle of the Reuben Kittrell born in South Carolina in about 1818, and who came to Green County Miss about 1838 and married Mary (Polly) McLean and they were the head of our family as we know it. Alex McLean the father of Polly was the first Sheriff of Green County (1812) and was your great great great grandfather. Both your great great grandfathers Henry Roberts 1874-1878 and Jonathan Kittrell 1878-1882 were sheriffs of Greene County on dates given. Both of them served as representatives to the State Legislature and Jonathan was member of the State Constitutional Convention of 1890 that framed the present Constitution of Miss.

Jonathan B. Butcher, 8/1987

In the last report we saw that John Kittrell of Pitt Co. was of age by 1 Sept. 1786, and was an heir of Jethro Kittrell, who had died before that date. As we will see below, we can show that Jethro had issue. To trace the lineage further back we need to resolve the issue of the identification of this Jethro Kittrell. It does appear, based on circumstantial evidence, that John Kittrell Sr. of Hertford Co. had a son Jethro. However, L. T. Wynn's account of the family says of this Jethro: "Bertie Co., then Craven Co. Was unmarried last record found for him." Your correspondent, Mrs. Branch, also apparently infers that this Jethro never married.

I believe these statements are based on a misinterpretation, stemming from the Census. As you note, the 1790 Census lists the following near one another in Craven Co.:

Jethro Kittrell	1-0-0-0-0
Joseph Kittrell	1-0-0-0-0
Jonathan Kittrell	1-3-7-0-0

Apparently because this Jethro is listed without a family in 1790 it has been inferred that John's son Jethro did not marry. However, it is first clear that this is not the same Jethro found in Pitt, who was dead by 1786. Further, I think that this Jethro was a much younger one than the one earlier found in Bertie, and indeed was likely an elder son of Jonathan Kittrell of Craven Co. He may well have died unmarried, as he is not found on later Census records, and no marriage bond was located.

Jonathan Kittrell was in Craven Co. by 1779, as the 1779 tax of Capt. Allen's Co. lists Jonathan Citral, valued at £150. Note that Jethro does not appear on this tax. The Craven deeds first show that Jonathan Kittrell had a grant of 100 acres on Swift Creek in 1785/6. Jonathan Kittrell of Craven, signing his name, sold this tract to William Charlton on 20 May 1788 (27:163, no witnesses). On 10 Nov. 1788 John Allen sold to Jonathan Kittrell of Craven 127 acres between Neuse River and Contentney on the Bear Pocoson (30:114, witnessed by Walter Allen, Shadrick Gatlin, Edward Bryan). Jethro Kittrell does not appear in the Craven deeds, and was probably a young, unmarried man in 1790. I did not find a deed of sale for Jonathan's purchase of 1788, nor were there any Kittrell/Kitterlin/Citral probates in Craven. None of the family appear in Craven on the 1800 Census, but there are two later deeds, of 1814 and 1817, for a Jonathan Kittrell, who purchased land on Batchelours Creek from William Fife and sold it to Alexander Taylour. Joseph Kittrell married in Craven, bond 4 Aug. 1791 Rachel Moore, with Jethro (X) Kittrell bondsman. Note that this Jethro signed by mark, while, as we will see below, Jethro Kittrell of Bertie wrote his name. I thus am quite convinced that Jethro Kittrell of Pitt, died before 1786, is the same one earlier found in Bertie. The full proof of this will be established in the next section.

JETHRO KITTRELL was probably born some time around 1740. As we saw in the last report, Jethro first appears in Bertie in 1763 living in the household of Jesse Harrell, and in 1770 purchased land from Jesse Harrell. I suggested that he might have married Jesse Harrell's daughter, and believe I can now prove that his wife was indeed Priscilla Harrell. Jesse Harrell Sr. made a will in Bertie on 19 Sept. 1786, proven Feb. 1788 (see copy enclosed). Among other bequests this leaves a negro to his daughter Prissellah Vinson at "executors' pleasure", then to go to "Rachel Kittrell Daughter of my Daughter Priscillar Vinson". Unfortunately, estate papers for Jesse provide no further information on this Kittrell connection, and there are no estate papers for widow Phereby Harrell. However, the granddaughter Rachel Kittrell cannot apparently be placed into any of the other Bertie Co. Kittrell families. I am therefore convinced that Jesse's daughter Priscilla Vinson was the widow of Jethro Kittrell, who had removed to Pitt Co. (Jesse probably did not name his other Kittrell grandchildren because his daughter was still living.) In further support of this idea, I note that there were no Vinsons living in Bertie in 1790. However, we do find a John Vinson in Pitt Co., in the same area as the Kittrells. Pitt deeds show that on 25 Feb. 1778 Obed Rountree and wife "Feril" sold land to John Vinson (F:512). Further, on the 1790 Census of Pitt we find, listed only three names away from John Kitrall, one John Vincent (1-0-3-0-0). Thus I think that Priscilla (Harrell) Kittrell may have married secondly John Vinson (Vincent) of Pitt Co. Unfortunately, the Pitt Co. deeds do not seem to reveal the name of John Vinson's wife. However, if Priscilla married secondly John Vinson this would now explain why John Vinson was a party to our John Kittrell's bond of 27 Oct. 1788 as heir of Jethro Kittrell. (Important Note: I see that my transcript of this bond mistakently has John Pinson rather than John Vinson. Please correct this error.) Indeed, John Vinson needed to be a party to this bond, as he was by then married to Jethro's widow, who would have had a life estate in a third part of the land.

Various other evidence also points us in this direction. An account of the estate of Jesse Harrell Jr. (son of Jesse Sr.), dated 28 Oct. 1784, shows payment of a debt to "Perusla Kittrell". Finally, we find the following important entry in the Bertie Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions Minutes:

12 Feb. 1781 (378-56): Ordered that Priscilla Kittrell be appointed guardian to John Kittrell on her given bond & security in the sum of twenty thousand pounds which is given by Jesse Cotton & William Rasco.

This entry does not match up with any Kittrell estates in Bertie Co. I therefore feel that it refers to John Kittrell of Pitt Co., eldest son and heir of Jethro and Priscilla (Harrell) Kittrell (who was born prior to 1765, but may well have been still a minor in 1781). Presumably a guardian was appointed back in Bertie to handle some claim that John had in that area. Indeed, it is most tempting to suppose that this guardianship refers to our John's inheritance from John Kittrell Sr. of Hertford Co., as we know that the latter's estate was divided in Dec. 1780.

These records thus provide us with continuity between Jethro Kittrell of Bertie and the Jethro who died in Pitt, and also provide further proof that Jethro's eldest son and heir was John Kittrell. Recall that in this period the law of primogeniture was still in effect, under which the eldest son inherited all of an intestate father's lands.

It is also of interest to examine other potential relationships through the Harrell family. Jesse Harrell Sr. was born ca. 1710/5, son of John Harrell Sr. (will 1756/9). The Harrell family was extremely numerous and confusing in Bertie, but this identification is proven by a deposition of 1805 regarding the descent of lands which John Sr. had deeded to his sons. Jesse's will names his wife Phereby and the following children:

- i. Priscilla, married (1) ca. 1762 Jethro Kittrell;
(2) ca. 1784/6 [John?] Vinson.
- ii. Josiah
- iii. Phereby, married Rountree. I believe that she was probably the wife of Obed Rountree of Pitt Co., who had a wife "Feril" in 1778. Jesse's will indicates that she was deceased and mentions her children Joab and Judath Rountree. This identification thus seems to provide us with another link.
- iv. Jesse Jr., estate administered 1784 by widow Esther or Hester Harrell. Division was made to the widow and three children:
 - i. Turner.
 - ii. Tempa.
 - iii. Jesse.
- v. Joshua.
- vi. Rachel, married Rasco, probably William Rasco.
- vii. Jonathan. His estate was administered on 16 May 1791 by Josiah Harrell, with Thomas Veal and William Rascoe securities.

We know that Jethro Kittrell was in Pitt by Feb. 1779, but have not found a deed of sale for his Bertie lands. However, we now have evidence to place him in Bertie through Jan. 1779, and can thus precisely date the time of his move as Jan.-Feb. 1779. This evidence comes from the Bertie Co. Records of Estates, which have recently been abstracted through 1790 by David Gammon. This provides the following references:

(1762-75)

(p.94): Account of estate of Hezekiah Thompson, ca. 1773, mentions Jethro Kittrell.

(p. 121): Sale of estate of William Turner, 25 May 1775, mentions Jethro Kittrell as a purchaser. This man was likely related in some way to the wife of Jesse Harrell Jr., who named a son Turner.

(p.148): Sales of estate of Benjamin Harrell, 29 Aug. 1775, mention Jethro Kittrell as a purchaser.

(1775-90)

(p.17): Sales of estate of Solomon Harrell, 22 Feb. 1777, show Jethro Kittrell as a purchaser. An account of the estate (p.150) shows a sum paid "Jethro Kittrell for Abraham Evings." We will return to Solomon Harrell below.

(p.43): Sales of estate of James Dodrel, 6 Sept. 1777, mention Jethrow Kittrell.

(p.79): Sale of the property of the children of Benjamin Rogers, 28 Aug. 1778, mentions Jethro Kittrell.

(p.99): Sale of the estate of Capt. Charles Averet, 22 Jan. 1779, mentions Jethro Kittrell.

Solomon Harrell was a nephew of Jesse Harrell Sr., being a son of Josiah Harrell (will 1773), and was thus a first cousin of Jethro's wife. His estate ("Harrold") was administered on 11 Feb. 1777 by David Harreld, who gave Charles Averet and Jethro Kittrell as securities. This bond provides us with a copy of Jethro's signature.

We may now conclude that Jethro Kittrell married Priscilla Harrell, probably about 1762/3 (as he first appears in Bertie in 1763), and died in Pitt Co. between Nov. 1779 and 12 Feb. 1781. His children included:

- i. John, probably born ca. 1762/65.
- ii. Rachel, named in her grandfather's will. It is possible that she returned to Bertie and married a cousin, for we find there a bond for the marriage of Jesse Harrell and Rachel Kittrell, dated 11 Nov. 1794, with Lewis Bryan bondsman.

It appears clear that Jethro Kittrell was a son of John Kittrell. There is much circumstantial evidence to indicate this, but, despite much effort, I have not been able to establish definitive proof. It is first most unfortunate that John's will is lost (note that this was proven in Hertford in 1771, not 1779, as I mistakenly stated at one point in my last report). We know that a division survives in Gates Co., created from Hertford in 1779, relative to John's estate, but not naming the heirs. This was dated 10 Dec. 1780, "agreeable to an Order of Court". Gates Court Minutes start in Feb. 1779, and have recently been abstracted. However, these make no mention of the division of John's estate, nor does it appear on the Gates Court Dockets of 1779-80. I would guess therefore that the division had been ordered by the Hertford court, prior to the creation of Gates. No estate papers are preserved in Edenton District Superior Court records for John.

Another source that might provide proof would be the tax records. In the Colonial period white males were tithable at age 16, and are often found mentioned as sons in their father's household in the tax lists of this period. I made a thorough resurvey of the Bertie tax lists of 1757-1764, and found nothing further. However, it now appears clear that the John Kittrell taxed in Bertie in this period was John Jr. John Sr. had remained in upper Chowan Co. in this period, in the part that became Hertford Co. (created by Act of 1759, to be effective 1 May 1760), and later Gates Co. (Gates included all of the part of Hertford that came from Chowan). Unfortunately, the tax lists of Chowan in this period generally do not list the names of the other polls in a man's household. I searched these lists for 1748-1759, and found John Kittrell with the size of his household increasing, but not with the names of his sons given. I checked Chowan road records of 1750-1760 and read the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions Minutes of Jan. 1758-Jan. 1760, hoping to find Jethro mentioned on a road work order, but without success. Finally, in Chowan many of the "more interesting" court papers were collected some time ago into mounted volumes of miscellaneous papers, chronological arranged. I read these for 1754-1759 and found no mention of Jethro.

JOHN KITTRELL Sr. was likely born around 1705/10 (judging from the ages of his sons), eldest son of Jonathan Kittrell. (Note that this dating implies that his mother was not Ann Durant, whom Jonathan married about 1717. He was probably the son of an unknown first wife.) The family made no known deeds between 1723 and 1737, and John probably lived on his father's lands at this time. His parentage is proven by the following Chowan deed:

(C#2:38): This Indenture made this 19 march in the year of our Lord 1739 Between Jona. Kitterill of Bartee pct....& Jno. Arline of the upper parish of Nansemond in Virginia... Witnesseth that the said Jona. Kitterill for...Thirtee pounds ten shillings ...hath...sould...unto him the said Jno. Arline...the just half or moiety of a tract of Six hundred and 40 acres of Woodland ground lying & being in the pct. of Chowan...which he the said Jonathan Kitterell lately purchased of one Jno. Kittrell Family File #1

We do not find a deed for the other part of this tract, and it was probably confirmed to John by Jonathan's will.

Continuing with the Chowan deeds, we find that on 10 June 1739 Samuel Williams of Chowan sold for 9 barrels of tar to Jno. Kitterlin 50 acres joining Abram Odom and Jonathan Kitterlin (C#2:37, witnessed by Wm. Fryer, Jno. Arline, Will. Wood). Next, on 5 Jan. 1739/40 William Wood of Chowan sold to Jno. Kitterill of the same for 2 pds. 10 sh. 50 acres at Fork Island (C#2:39, witnessed by Richard Taylor). On 13 April 1748 John Kitterell of Chowan, signing by mark, sold 50 acres on the North West Branch to Richard Baker (E#1:292, witnessed by Peter Parker Junr., Jonathan Parker, John W_____).

A record of processioning of land boundaries in Chowan, dated 5 April 1756 (Chowan Co. Misc. Records, VIII:122) shows the following:

Processioned the Line between John Kittrell and John Hains both Parties present likewise Richard Baker and John Kittrel.

Processioned the line between John Catterall and Richard Baker, both parties present, likewise Daniel Pugh and Stephen Parker.

It will be of interest in discussing the origins of the family to note that John's surname is apparently given as "Catterall" in one of these records.

John also seems to have had some land in Bertie. There we find that on 3 Oct. 1755 John Kittrell of Chowan Co. sold for 5 sh. to Jonathan Kittrell of Bertie 250 acres at Buck Swamp on Poplar Branch, joining William King and Amos Grant (H:232, witnessed by Jacob Odom, Samuel Kittrell, Jacob Rogers). This deed was possibly made in connection with the estate of Jonathan Kittrell Sr.

The evidence from the Chowan tax lists, which are incompletely preserved, is not very clear. In most years only total tithable polls are given, not even broken down into black and white polls. However, the 1746 list provides an important exception. I found the following:

1742, list of John Alston
John Kittrill 2 tithes
1746, list of Willm. Luten
John Ketterall 3 white polls 2 black polls
1748, list of Col. John Alston
John Ketterel 4 tithes

1750, list of Demsey Sumner
 John Kittrell 4 tithes
1751, list of Demsey Sumner
 John Kiterell 5 tithes
1752, list of Demsey Sumner
 John Kiterell 5 tithes
1755, list of Demsey Sumner (in Chowan Co. Misc. Papers, VIII:100)
 John Kiterell 6 tithes

I did not find John on the lists of 1756. No lists survive for 1757-8, and those of 1759 are quite incomplete.

John was included into the new county of Hertford in 1759-60, where most records are lost. Signers of a petition of the inhabitants of Chowan for the formation of a new county, heard in the House 29 Nov. 1758, included George Kittrell and John Kittrell. In the Granville Co. deeds (where John's brothers had removed) we find that on 15 Jan. 1761 Samuel Benton sold for £66/13/4 to John Kittrell of Hertford 382 acres at the head of Rocky Branch and Harris Branch (D:188). John Kittrell of Hertford Co. sold this tract for a token amount to Moses Kittrell of Granville on 21 Jan. 1769 (H:509).

A record of probates issued in Hertford Co. preserved in the Secretary of State's Papers (SS 837) shows that the will of John Kittrell was proven in Hertford in November 1771, with John Kittrell as executor. As noted previously, in Gates Co. there is preserved a record of division of certain property of the estate of John Kittrell into six shares. This has been interpreted to mean that he left six children, although the exact terms of the will are of course unknown to us. However, I note that the division is labeled "Each man's part". This is ambiguous, but I think that this implies that this residual division was made to six sons. Let us see what we can do towards identifying John's children:

- i. John Jr., executor of his father's will. He was probably one of the additional white polls appearing in his father's household between 1742 and 1746, and thus born ca. 1725/30. He moved to Bertie, where on 12 Feb. 1755 Richard Johnson and wife Alice sold two tracts to John Kittrell Junr. (H:142). Taxed in Bertie from 1757 on. Made a will in Bertie on 22 Nov. 1792, proven Feb. 1793. His children are listed by Wynn, although I think there may be some mistakes regarding the son John.
- ii. son, born ca. 1725/30. This might be the George

Kittrell mentioned in the petition of 1758. He seems to have later moved to Bertie, where his estate was administered in 1782. He left a widow Rachel who married secondly Nottingham Monk, and children including the following:

- i. Leah.
- ii. Mary.
- iii. George.
- iv. Belson.
- v. Jonathan. Estate administered by Nottingham Monk in 1795.
- vi. Elizabeth, died unmarried in 1792. perhaps others, as Elizabeth is said to have had ten legatees.
- iii. son, born ca. 1735 (guessing from the tax). It seems likely that Jonathan Kittrell, of Craven by 1779, might fit in here. As noted above, his elder sons, probably born in the late 1760's, were likely Jethro and Joseph.
- iv. son, born ca. 1739. This would seem likely to be Jethro.
- v. son, probably born after 1739. I would guess that the Absalom Kittrell who was in Dobbs Co. in 1771 and owned land in Pitt might be a son.
- vi. Moses, said to have been born ca. 1745, and likely the youngest son. He seems to have inherited his father's land in Gates Co. and died there on 16 Feb. 1790. His children are listed by Wynn.
- vii. Sarah, married James Arline, as proven by a later Gates Co. deed.
- viii. supposedly Mary, mar. Mills Riddick.

JONATHAN KITTRELL Sr. seems likely to have been born around 1680, although his exact age is presently subject to a great deal of uncertainty. I first find record of him in 1704, when he appears on the Quit Rent Rolls in Nansemond Co., Va. (now the City of Suffolk) with 300 acres of land. I do not find Jonathan in the Virginia land patents, as abstracted by N. M. Nugent (Cavaliers and Pioneers...), and he had presumably purchased his land in Nansemond.

From Nansemond Jonathan moved to Chowan Precinct, N.C., where on 30 Aug. 1714 he obtained a grant of 218 acres on Bennetts Creek, adjoining Merryhill Pocason, Abrm. Odom and Crafoord's Branch (Grants, 1:238). Soon after, supposedly in 1717, he married Ann, daughter of Gov. George Durant. She would seem to have been his second wife. The deeds then show that on 11 Feb. 1718/9 Jonathan Kitterell of Chowan and wife Ann sold to James Foyle 100 acres on Bennetts Creek (B#1:713, witnessed by Rt. Hicks, Samuel (+) Guilliams), and on the same date to George Guilliams 50 acres on Bennetts Creek (B#1:714, witnessed by John Williamson, Rt. Hicks). The deeds next show that on 18 July 1721 John King of Virginia assigned to Jonathan Kittrile a patent of 640 acres, joining William Spikes, John Davis and Henry Jornegan (F#1:157, witnessed by John Crombie, William Lattimer). On 23 March 1723 Jonathan Kitterell of Chowan sold to Richard Parker of the Upper Parish of Nansemond 50 acres joining John Stallings, White Pott Pocason, Thomas Beaglin and sd. Kitterell (C#1:342, witnessed by George (G) Spivey, James (I) Spivey). Jonathan's wife did not sign this deed, so perhaps Ann had died by this time. His third wife is said to have been named Margaret.

Bertie deeds show that on 26 July 1736 John Rasberry and wife Bridget of Bertie sold to Jonathan Kitterlin of Chowan Precinct for 30 pds. 470 acres on Conritsy Swamp and Buck Branch (E:166, witnessed by Joseph Bordill, James Maglahon, Joseph Arline). Jonathan apparently moved to this land, and, as we saw above, was a resident of Bertie on 19 Mar. 1739 when he divided his 640 acre patent between John Arline and John Kittrell (C#2:38). The Chowan deeds also show that on 20 Feb. 1739/40 Jonathan Kitterill of Bertie sold to Richd. Baker of Chowan 70 acres on Middle Swamp, "whereupon Jonathan Kitterill Junr. lately lived" (C#2:49, witnessed by Christopher (CB) Boyce, Caleb (C) Spivey).

As noted by Wynn, the will of Jonathan Kittrell was proved by Jonathan Kittrell Jr. in Bertie at February Court, 1747/8. However, all trace of this will seems to have disappeared. I cannot add anything to the tentative list of Jonathan's children given by Wynn, except as regards the dating of his eldest son, John. It would appear that John might have been the only son of a first marriage, and that he was substantially older than his brothers who moved to Granville.

We now turn to the problem of the origin of the family. First, a bit of historical introduction. In Colonial Virginia land patents were issued on a headright system, under which 50 acres was granted for each person entering the colony. This was a device to encourage settlement. The headrights were freely transferable, often assigned to pay for passage, and in many cases were not "cashed" until many years after arrival. The patent books thus provide us with a sort of list of immigrants arriving in Virginia, and these have been published in N. M. Nugent, Cavaliers and Pioneers..... The lists are not however complete, because on some patents the names of the headrights are not given, and some names have been mistranscribed as well.

Jonathan Kittrell Sr. would appear to be the first of the Kittrell name, and probably the first of the line in America. I have not been able to find earlier reference to the name in various indexes and reference sources referring to the other colonies (and looked particularly closely at Maryland wills and marriages, as many Albemarle settlers came from there). Previous researchers also seem to have had little success in determining Jonathan's origin. Indeed, Nugent's abstracts provide no references to the surname Kittrell or Kitterlin in Virginia. However, we must also remember that both Jonathan and his son John signed by mark and were apparently illiterate. Thus there is nothing "fixed" about the spelling of the name, which in earlier times may have been written somewhat differently. Specifically, it is my guess that the name Kittrell derives from the English surname Caterall, Catherall or Catherell. (Recall the reference to John Catterall noted above.) Nugent does provide two references that look rather like this name. First we find that on 29 Dec. 1677 Lt. Col. Cad. Jones and Mr. David Jones received a patent of 14,114 acres in Stafford Co., Va., due for the importation of 282 persons, including "Jno. Cattrickle" (II:191). This is probably a corruption of the name Catherall, and is dated about the time of Jonathan Kittrell's birth. However, I have not been able to find any further record of this John Cattrickle at present. Next we find that in 1696 (exact date not given) one William Catherell received a grant of 800 acres in Princess Anne Co., on the Western Swamp near Lucy Keeling, being part of an earlier patent granted to John Keeling and deserted (III:9). This is of particular interest because Princess Anne was only two counties away from Nansemond. Princess Anne was created from Norfolk, and we find William Catterell in Norfolk by 28 Jan. 1686/7, when he witnessed the will of Samuel Walston. An index shows that the estate of William Catherill was administered in Princess Anne in 1715, but these records are not available here. Certainly the Princess Anne records should be checked, but it is my intuitive guess that William Catherell was probably not the father of Jonathan Kittrell, if only because the given name William is not repeated in the family for several generations. However, he could well be some other sort of relative.

It seems quite possible that Jonathan Kittrell may himself have been an immigrant from England. In any case I suspect that the surname derives from the ancient Catherall family of Cheshire. It is known that Cheshire was the origin of a number of the early families in the Albemarle region, and Cheshire is of course near to the important port of Bristol. The 1613 Visitation of Cheshire (Publications of the Harleian Society, vol. LIX; see photostats enclosed) gives a pedigree of 13 generations of the Catherall family of Horton, running back to the time of King Edward I. The 1663 Visitation of Cheshire continues the eldest line up to that date, and gives the arms of the family (Azure, a lion passant between three mascles or). It seems quite possible that Jonathan Kittrell could descend from one of the many younger or cadet branches of the family, as English research might show. However, it would be advisable to complete investigation of all clues in Virginia (such as in Princess Anne) before attempting to make the difficult jump across the Atlantic.

NOTES OF EXPLANATION
(Not in Kittrell Bible)

Absolom B. "AB" Kittrell was the first husband of Martha Ann Prine, by him she had:

William Robert, Sam Abnor, Mary Ella, Elax Travis, Henry Thomas, David Alonzo and Riley Lafford (twins).

After "ABs" death, Martha married Reuben Kittrell, November 20, 1887. By Reuben Kittrell she had:

Effie Weldy, Martha Elizabeth, Reuben Walter and Eliza Anne.

It will be noted that on his tombstone, Alex's name is spelled differently than as written in the Kittrell Bible by his mother as Elax. Also his birth and death dates are given as April 7, 1878 - May 6, 1938, not agreeing with dates in the Kittrell Bible.

Sam Abnor Kittrell is buried in the Sylvester-Lee Cemetery, Arlington Community, Beaumont, Perry County, Miss. beside his son, Cecil Hardy (grave unmarked). His wife, Rachel Byrd Kittrell Davis, is buried in the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church Cemetery, Green County, Miss.

David Alonzo Kittrell is buried between his two wives, Genieva Back-strom Kittrell and Ethel Roberts Kittrell in the Buffalo Cemetery, Greene County, Miss.

Riley Lafford Kittrell is also buried beside his wife, Minnie Roberts Kittrell in the Buffalo Cemetery.

Their sister, Ella, is buried between both her husbands, William L. Dunnam and E. J. Jackson in the Buffalo Cemetery. The birth date on her tombstone is not in agreement with the entry made by her mother in the Kittrell Bible.

Mary Elizabeth is buried in Mobile Memorial Gardens, Mobile, Ala. near two of her sons, Joseph and Walter Black.

Absolom B. "AB" Kittrell is buried in Old Washington Cemetery, Neely, Greene County, Miss.

"All of the early entries in the Kittrell Bible were made mostly by Martha Kittrell, some were made by Reuben Kittrell. I can not determine that any of the entries were made by Absolom B. "AB" Kittrell, although, the Bible appears to have been originally his. Later entries were made by Eliza Ann Kittrell Small McLendon. Some of the 1930 entries and entries after the death of his mother were made by Alvin Leon Small (mother was Eliza Ann Kittrell Small McLendon)," says the contributor Alvin L. Small. He further states that this Bible was printed on inferior paper, and it is in a process of disintegration and much of the information it contains will be lost before the passing of many more years. Lt. Col. Small says any interested person is welcome to inspect this Bible.

SMALL-KITTRELL RELATIONSHIP AND THE KITTRELL BIBLE

"My father, E. Leon Small, was married to Eliza Kittrell, my mother. He was an invalid from January, 1923 to his death, November 20, 1929. In February, 1925 we moved into my grandfather and grandmother, Reuben and Martha Kittrells' home. Besides myself and my parents, there were three other children younger than I, two girls and one boy. We lived with them until February, 1930. As a matter of fact, we never lived any further away from them than three miles and to we children they were a second set of parents. I know they looked upon my father as their son.

As the eldest of the children being about nine years of age when we moved into their home, I had to help my grandfather about the farm, spending many days in the fields and woods with him. Being the oldest of the children and perhaps a little closer to him, I am sure was the motivating reason that he passed the Bible on to me, not too many weeks prior to his death." So this contributor has felt compelled over the years to take care of this Bible and to continue inscribing.

Detailed planning is incomplete, but the tentative schedule is for eight, two-hour classes. Classes would begin early in January, with one class being presented each week, probably from 6 to 8 P.M. on Thursday evenings. Instructions will start with the basic fundamentals of family history and will progress step-by-step through the intermediate and more advanced techniques of genealogical research.

OLD BOLTON PIONEER CEMETERY
(White)

Beaumont, Perry County, Mississippi

This old cemetery is located inside the town of Beaumont, Miss. on the east bluff of Carters' Creek, south of the I C. G. Railroad near the east boundary of the town. It is located on Thomas A. Clayton Road, recently paved and is across the street from the Bolton (black) Cemetery.

In 1979, the town of Beaumont was presented a one-acre tract of land containing this cemetery and approximately a two-acre tract containing the Bolton (black) Cemetery and at the same time the town purchased a thirty-acre tract of land, all this being a portion of the old Evans (Doll) Bolton Estate.

On June 11, 1983, this land including the cemeteries was named and dedicated the:

Beaumont School Alumni Memorial Park

This cemetery probably contains at least eighteen graves but Thomas A. Clayton's grave is the only one marked. Several people are remembered by name as being buried in this cemetery; Charles Bolton and wife and a "Judge" Davis and his wife, but their graves can not be identified.

A granite marker was placed at the head of Thomas A. Clayton's grave by the local V. F. W. Post. The side of the marker facing Thomas A. Clayton's grave was engraved with the epitaph from his original tombstone, which is still standing on his grave. It was engraved

Sacred to the memory of

Son of
I. H. and E. M. Clayton
Born February 10, 1829
Died November 6, 1831

The opposite side is engraved

Despite the short time that many had in which to prepare to attend the reunion, the response was tremendous. Over 200 Kittrell Kin and Friends were present, coming from diverse corners of the U.S.A.

All agreed to meet again next Palm Sunday.

One final note: The food was in keeping with family traditions; plentiful and so delicious. We are all indebted to the family ladies and we thank them so much for their contribution towards making this reunion the great success it was.

The friends, kin and descendants of A. B. AB. Reuben and Martha Kittrell held their first family reunion at the American Legion Hut in Arlington Community, near Beaumont, Miss. Sunday, April 15, 1984.

It was a beautiful Palm Sunday; a perfect day and a perfect setting for such an event. So many of us appreciated the opportunity to renew old family acquaintances and visit and reminisce with our childhood friends, most of whom we had not seen in so many years.

Considering that our grandparents had been dead from 50 to 100 years, it was significant to know that our family ties still exist as binding as ever, and that Kittrells are still proud of these family ties and that love and concern for each other is as strong as it was in days gone by.

Dear Mrs. Strickland,

I came across something in the Mobile library the other day that is probably of interest to some people interested in the parentage of Thomas Kittrell (born in South Carolina as opposed to David's Thomas).

I was trying to determine the approximate time of death of Mary McLean Kittrell -- her husband Reuben's estate was settled in March, 1877 according to a journal kept by my great grandfather Johnathan. In the 1880 census, the heads of households and their wives were asked the place of birth of their parents. Absolom (Thomas' son) said his father was born in Florida and his mother was born in North Carolina. That seemed most unusual since his father had indicated in the 1840 and 1850 census reports that he was born in South Carolina.

I checked the 1830 Florida census index (Thomas paid a poll tax in Greene County in 1834) and found Absolom Kittrell in Gadsden County, Florida: one male 10-15 (Reuben's age), one male 15-20 (Thomas was 23) and one male 50-60, one female 5-10 and one female 30-40.

In a book RECORDS OF TALLAHASSEE AND NEWNANSVILLE GENERAL LAND OFFICE 1825-1892, published by Heritage Books, entry No. 2312 read: KITTRELL, THOMAS, March 18, 1828, 3 miles southeast of Greensboro, Gadsden County, W $\frac{1}{2}$ of NW $\frac{1}{4}$ of Section 23, Township 2, Range 5, North and West.

I believe this Absolom was the brother of David. This Absolom, the second Kittrell with that name, enlisted in the Army at age 38 on April 18, 1814. He and David enlisted on the same day from Kershaw County, S. C. Absolom, David and William fit the age bracket of three sons of Johnathan Kittrell in the 1790 census of Craven County, North Carolina. William appeared in the 1810 census of Lancaster County, South Carolina, between Edmund Hull and David Usher. In 1811, Absolom bought 500 acres between Edmund Hull and David Usher -- then sold it in 1813. That was on one of the two Gills Creeks, the one near the Anson County, N. C. line.

I left several items with you about the first Absolom, but I don't think I mentioned that he paid taxes in the Beaufort district in 1764. Jethro paid taxes in Bertie County in 1769, so they were probably close to the same age. The several Kittrell families in the area where Pitt, Craven and Dobbs Counties joined (all lived across the creek from each other) seemed to be related to Jethro or Absolom -- I'm referring to the 1790 census. John, on the Pitt County side of the creek, said he had inherited land from Jethro in 1787, so the Jethro in the 1790 census must have been No. 2. The will of Jethro No. 3 is in the North Carolina archives.

Back to Thomas, he was 21 when he received the Florida land grant. He received the grant at Clark's Chapel (next to Bodo Adams) in 1836, but it appears that only Reuben lived on that property. It was changed to Reuben's name after Thomas died in the 1850's. Thomas' name appears on the taxpayers' list (the one not alphabetized) and the 1840 and 1850 census reports living next to the Averys in Old Avery. David's Thomas first appears as a head of household in 1860.

One of Reuben's granddaughters said he was with his cousins, one said David was his great uncle and Thomas was his uncle, a woman named Langford in the Jones community said he was adopted and his name was Walker, Aunt Mary Clifton agreed with that statement, and Mr. Ira Sowell said that Thomas and Reuben were brothers. I had a course in logic at Tulane, but so far that has not helped me with the papers I inherited relating to Reuben.

I hope the Florida information will be of help to Thomas' heirs.

Cordially,

Max Miller

Mr. Robert W. O'Brien
911 Gloster Street
Corinth, Ms. 38834

Dear Mr. O'Brien:

With regard to my letter of December 6 about the relationship of the Reuben Kittrell family to John and Margaret McIntosh McInnis in Greene County, I believe that I've found a possible answer to the question.

The widow, Mary McLain, that I mentioned was the widow of Angus McLain. He was listed in the 1790 South Carolina census as Agnes McLain. Angus was listed in Prince George Parish without family, but with one slave. Also listed in Prince George Parish is a John McInnis, two males over 16, 4 under 16, and four females. I obtained copies of their land grants and I am enclosing copies. You will note that both McInnis and McLain lived on Little Pee Dee River -- that was in present day Marion County. I'm looking for evidence that Mary McLain was one of the McInnis daughters. That would make John and Margaret McInnis the great uncle and aunt (from Scotland who operated a writing school) of my great grandfather Jonathan Kittrell and his younger brother Rueben, Jr.

Reuben, Jr., was a teacher and Jonathan was a sheriff and state legislator. I believe they got their education from the McInnises as young Reuben's daughter claimed. I sent you samples of Jonathan's handwriting earlier. Enclosed is a copy of an affidavit from Reuben Kittrell's land grant application. Note the signature of William B. Clark -- he, too, must have been a student of John and Margaret.

Angus McLain arrived in Greene County in 1822 and he died in 1827. Their son, Alexander, was born in Georgia in 1804. Mary said she was born in Georgia in 1822 -- her children said (in 1880) that she was born in Mississippi.

You will note on Angus' 1789 grant that his neighbors were Daniel Moody and Ezekiel Coward (they changed that to Cowart in Greene County).

I have had many, many, disappointments since I took up genealogy as a hobby. Many things I have ordered from various state archives and libraries have not contained anything of interest. This time I hit the jackpot. My three times great grandfather Charles Moody, Sr., a brother to Daniel, was married to Zylphia Cowart who was most likely a sister of Ezekiel. Ezekiel also moved to Greene County. The Cowarts and Moodys lived in the Leaf community near the forks of the rivers. They were ancestors of my grandmother Kittrell while the McLains belonged to my grandfather. Genealogy goes around and never seems to end. Joseph Oliver Cowart, an attorney, married Mary Matilda, my grandfather Miller's sister. Joseph and Mary moved to Texas where he spent the remainder of his life as a country judge.

If you have anything in your records to help me with the McLain/McInnis theory, I would appreciate the information. If I find more records on my newly found Scottish cousins, I shall send you a copy.

Cordially,

Max Miller

Encls.

P. S. The reason I know that McInnis and McLain were in present day Marion County is that Daniel Moody, Sr., and Charles Moody, Sr. were together in the 1800 Marion County census. Charles enlisted in Keith's (S. C. 6th) Regiment for the war of 1812.

Dear Jean,

I have spent some time trying to prove or disprove Mattie E. Kittrell's note about the Kittrells. She was correct in saying that Martha Ann Prine's husbands were first cousins. I suppose it is academic as to whether the John McInnis and Kittrells lived in Adamsville, Old Avera or State Line. It appears that the aunt and uncle, born in Scotland who operated a "writing school" could be correct. Of course, we know that young Absalom and Reuben (Jr.) were born in Mississippi.

I am enclosing two South Carolina land grants for your files -- that of Angus McLain and a John McInnis. Feel free to discard the copies of my letters to your friend, Mr. O'Brien. In addition to the possibility of Mary McLain being John McInnis' sister, I believe there was a reason for Thomas Kittrell choosing to settle next to the McInnis family -- he arrived from Florida with a 15 year old younger brother and a seven year old younger sister. There was available land near David and Margaret Kittrell seven miles north. I think the answer lies in the identity of Thomas' mother or the identity of John McInnis' first wife. It could be Margaret McIntosh, herself. There was a James McIntosh near the Kittrells on the Neuse River and also one near John McInnis up until about 1841.

Thomas moved up near the Averas after his marriage to Easter, but Reubin was still living between William B. Clark and Alexander McLain at the time of the 1860 agricultural census, even though he got his land grant for the property on Mill Creek of Big Creek in 1854.

I got the copy of Reubin's land grant at the National Archives, using the tracking record in WHO MARRIED WHOM. Incidentally, your last publication has been most helpful - the tax rolls and agricultural census records. That is how I found Angus, established David Kittrell's date of birth as 1783, the birth date of the first John Miller as 1774, and a number of other things.

Cordially,

Max Miller

Mr. Robert W. O'Brien
911 Gloster Street
Corinth, Ms. 38834

Dear Mr. O'Brien:

In 1984 you wrote a letter to Ben and Jean Strickland relating to the various John McInnis families in Greene County. I am particularly interested in John (your No. 1) and Margaret McIntosh McInnis, and also Mary McInnis McLean listed on one of your accompanying sheets.

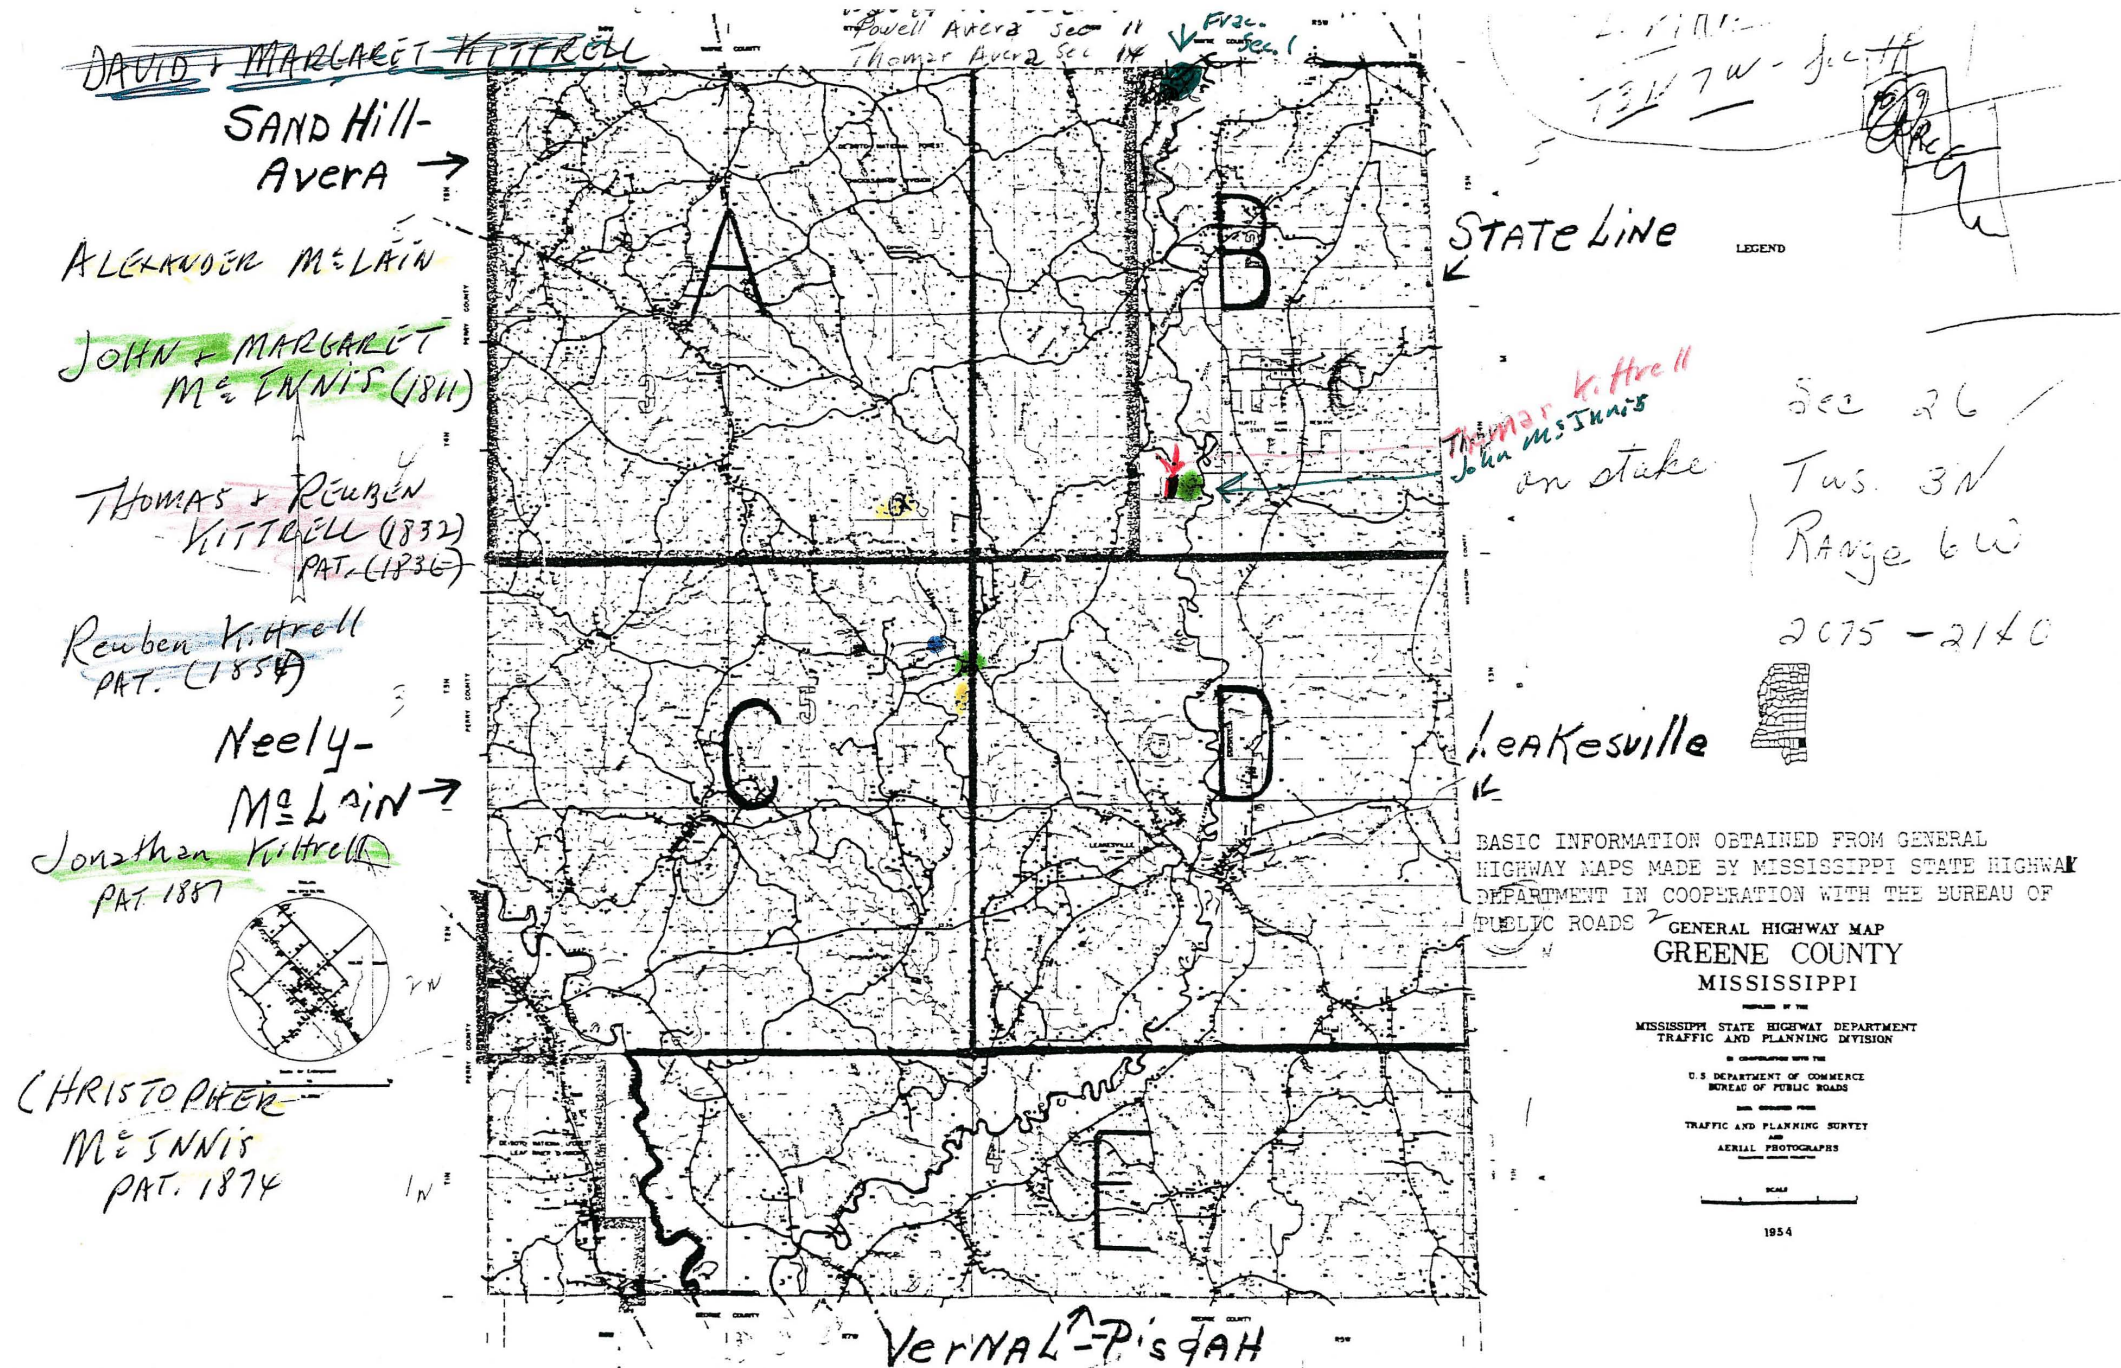

A family of Kittrells settled on a small (80 acre) parcel adjoining these McInnises in 1833/34, two brothers and a sister. They were with their father, one of several Absalom Kittrells, in Gadsden County, Florida, in 1832. To avoid explaining the Kittrell family, I'm enclosing a chart, showing their origin.

One of the children of Reuben Kittrell, Jonathan, born 1841, indicated that a great aunt and uncle, both born in Scotland, operated a writing (penmanship) school. Jonathan's handwriting was outstanding and he was one of the three scribes for the 1890 Mississippi constitution. I am enclosing a copy of William B. Clark's and also a copy of Christopher McInnis' account sheets from Jonathan Kittrell's account book.

Reuben Kittrell, in 1840, was married to Mary McLean. In that year he was 22 and she was 18. A widow named Mary McLean lived a few miles up the Chicksawhay River. It is generally assumed that she was the mother of Reuben's wife and the mother of Alexander McLean, the first sheriff of Greene County. Could Mary McLean, the widow, be the sister of John McInnis (No. 1) rather than John who died in 1821?

The Kittrells mentioned above had an uncle and aunt living on the river just below the Wayne County line. I believe the aunt, daughter of Thomas Avera, was born in Cumberland Co., N. C. It was a little unusual for the younger Kittrells to choose to live by the McInnises rather than near their uncle and aunt who lived seven miles north. If you have any information that would connect my great, great grandfather Reuben Kittrell to the McInnises, I would appreciate having it.

BEAUMONT, MISS. 39423

STATUS OF HIGH LEVEL NUCLEAR WASTE SITE AND REPOSITORY STUDIES AS OF DEC. 17, 1980.

After visiting the Nuclear test site in Nevada, near Las Vegas and after attending the 1980 National Waste Terminal Storage Program Information Meeting conducted by the U.S. Department of Energy and Office of Nuclear Waste Isolation, Batelle Memorial Institute, 8th - 9th December 1980, Columbus, Ohio, it would seem that we are faced with many problems which will yet require a number of years of studies before the problems inherent with this type of operation can be properly solved.

One of the great problems confronting the Department of Energy and the American people is the process of selecting a repository for the permanent storage of High Level Nuclear Waste Material, primarily the spent fuel cells removed from Nuclear Reactors.

A third of the Uranium cells or cores are removed from the Reactors each year and replaced with new cells. These Cells removed comprise, perhaps, a major portion of the Radioactive Waste that must be stored in a protected location in such a manner that it cannot leak and penetrate the environment of man.

To date the products removed from Reactors are being stored in water on the premises of the Reactors. It is necessary that it be contained in water not only because of the toxic radiation that it radiates, but also because of the heat which it will generate for a number of years.

Some Reactors are running out of storage space and facilities for these materials and it is estimated that by the year, 2,000 most, if not all Reactor sites, will have used up their storage space.

It is estimated now that two 13x90x100 ft. areas could contain all the High Level Radioactive materials that have been generated to-date. It is further stated by some that by the year 2,000 it will take an area twice that large to hold these materials.

I would like to point out that when these fuels are removed from the Reactors they have probably only used 5 to 10% of their Radioactive materials. Most of the Radioactive materials could be recovered by a process of reprocessing which is possible by using (Breeder Reactors). Breeder Reactors will actually produce more usable Radioactive materials than they are fueled with. Unfortunately, a good portion of the Radioactive materials they produce is Plutonium. Plutonium is used primarily for nuclear weapons and most particularly to trigger H-Bombs. It is for this reason that the Carter Administration has been against the development and use of Breeder Reactors in the United States. Consequently, our government has done little to develop this area of our nuclear industry. President Carter and some of his advisors have tried to discourage the proliferation of Nuclear weapons by refraining from the production of Plutonium which is, as mentioned above, one undesirable result of the development of a Breeder Reactor program.

Nevertheless many other countries are already Reprocessing. France has a large Breeder Reactor and is not only processing their high level Radioactive Waste, but is in the business of doing this for other countries such as Japan, Israel, etc. Other nations, particularly the Communist Bloc Nations, have pushed ahead in this field and also have working Breeder Reactors. It would seem that the United States can no longer turn its back to this problem and fail to push our technology forward in this direction. It has been stated that we are at least 5 or more years behind other nations in this area. We can hope that the incoming Administration will address themselves to this problem. If they do push forward the science of (Breeder Reactors), it will most certainly cut down tremendously on the amount of High Level Nuclear Waste that we will have to reckon with.

President Carter, during his administration, not only directed a speed-up and expansion of the Nuclear Waste Program, but also set forth directives requiring further investigations into the feasibility and desirability of using different types of geological formations for the building of a repository for the storage of Nuclear Waste. Heretofore, it seemed, the stress had been placed on Salt Dome formations and really with insufficient scientific investigation into their characteristics and of course we had the impression that the greater emphasis had been placed on the two domes in Perry County, Miss.; the Cypress Creek and Richton Domes, and their characteristics had certainly not been detailed enough to give a final answer as to their suitability for a repository.

Now much investigative exploratory work is being conducted in other various localities and geologic formations within the continental limits of the United States. Experimental programs have been established in Basalt formations at Hanford, Washington, and also in Tuff and Climax Granite formations out on the Nevada Site. Other areas and formations are also under study and tests are being conducted as to their feasibility as well as their desirability.

Members of the Perry County C.A.N.T committee recently visited the Nevada Test Site in Southern Nevada and were conducted on a tour and given a briefing on the facilities.

They visited the shaft which is a horizontal mine approximately one and one half miles up into a mountain. It is about 1400 ft. from the top of the Mountain up near the terminal end of the shaft. The composition of the mountain is a Rocky substance called "Tuff". Here, highly Radioactive Waste is packaged in stainless steel cylinders and placed in holes bored into the tuff formation, the top of the hole sealed with concrete. This will remain there for different intervals of time and in the meantime investigations will be conducted to determine the effect of heat on tuff, the possibility of seepage of radioactive materials into water, and of course many other factors will be investigated.

Similar research is being conducted in the Climax Mine on the Nevada Test Site. The Climax Mine is a vertical shaft bored to a depth of about 1400 ft. down into Climax granite to a depth of about 1400 ft. At the bottom of the shaft numerous horizontal shafts extend out in different directions. Holes are also bored into the mine floor and the steel cylinders are inserted into them and also capped with concrete. These tests are of course also to determine the feasibility of Climax Granite for the storage of Nuclear Waste.

Similar studies and tests are being conducted in Basalt formations at Hanford, Washington. Studies are now being conducted in other geological formations and more are being considered for future study.

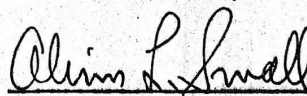

A series of seminar's were sponsored by the Department of Energy by the Office of Nuclear Waste Isolation, Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio; December 8 - 11, 1980. These meetings were conducted, to determine the status of the nuclear waste program to date - and for exchange of information between scientists and engineers and for the education of the public. This meeting was attended by C.A.N.T. members, State Officials, Professional and other interested individuals from Mississippi and also the same representation was present from much of the nation.

It has been stated that the site or sites-there is a possibility that more than one site could be selected, preferably in different geographical locations for the construction of one or more repositories - selection will not occur before or after 1985, actual construction of the repository not beginning until 1991 or after and actual use of the repository not commencing until the year 2,000.

The president has directed that much consideration and research be placed on the effect such a facility will have on the Social and Economic life of the people living in the area in which they are located. He has further directed that all concerned be briefed periodically concerning all aspects of this program and kept abreast of all developments in this field, particularly in regards to the selection of a site for the repository.

He has also further given his word that before he puts his O.K. on a site that all factors will be considered, especially the attitude of the people living in the vicinity of the proposed site and the impact it will make on their life. He further stated that he desired not to locate it in a community which violently objected to its presence.

What is now unknown is the attitude, the incoming administration will take towards the solution of the high level nuclear waste problem and the consideration that will be given to the area and its people in the process of selection of the site. Only time will answer that question. However, at the moment we can only hope that he and his people will also tackle and resolve this problem in a fair and impartial manner.
